St. Louis Paper is proud to distribute stretch films manufactured by three nationally recognized manufacturers, Quintec Films, AEP Industries, and ITW GaleWrap. Whatever your application requires, we have the right product:

- For machine or hand application
- Standard cores or extended cores
- Value or high-performance
- Three, five or seven layers for optimum performance
- Standard or prestretched
- Clear or colored for security or identification
- For indoor or outdoor storage

Quintec Films

Pallet stretch films are manufactured in two different manners:

CAST stretch films offer superior clarity, quiet unwind, and differential (one-sided) cling. Cast films usually provide the best value.

BLOWN stretch films offer the highest puncture and tear resistance, exceptional strength, and high cling.

We can provide both blown and cast pallet stretch films for either hand or machine applications. (See FAQs for help in determining the best film for your application)

St. Louis Paper provides the most reliable and consistent stretch films available. We sell hand wrappers as well as semi-automatic and fully-automatic pallet stretch wrappers manufactured by M.J. Maillis/Wulftec. We can help you automate your operation as required. (See our stretch wrap machinery page)

Our inventory includes a wide variety of films and put-ups:

Rolls with small diameter extended core for dispenserless hand application

Standard and prestretched films for hand application using dispensers

Standard and prestretched films for machine application
